CHAPTER 1: RESPONSIBILITIES, REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES

INTRODUCTION
Submission of your manuscript is the pinnacle of the graduate experience. The University of New Orleans has created this packet to guide you towards this moment.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES
Each candidate for commencement is responsible for meeting the requirements of the university and their supervisory committee. In addition to following the format requirements in this Manual, students should familiarize themselves with the various forms and due dates required for the completion of a graduate degree.

COMMITTEE RESPONSIBILITIES
A student's chair and committee are responsible for the evaluation and approval of the style and content of the student's manuscript. Signatures of the committee on the Thesis and Dissertation Approval Form must be received before a manuscript will be approved by the Graduate School.

GRADUATE SCHOOL RESPONSIBILITIES
The Graduate School office oversees and implements all policies and procedures governing graduate manuscripts. It also publicizes and disseminates the articulation of these policies and procedures to the campus.

AUTHORSHIP
It is university policy that one and only one candidate may author a thesis or dissertation. While candidates may collaborate on the research or project, each candidate is responsible for writing their own thesis or dissertation.

HUMAN & ANIMAL SUBJECTS
University regulations require students to receive permission prior to conducting research on human and animal subjects. Any research that involves a human subject - including a survey - requires permission. Forms to submit to either the University Committee on the Use of Human Subjects (Institutional Review Board -IRB) or the University Committee on Animal Subjects (Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee-IACUC) may be obtained from the Office of Research website http://www.uno.edu/orsp/PoliciesProcedures/index.aspx.

Copyright

Copyright issues are two-fold:

a) Protection of your intellectual property &

b) Legal use of others’ intellectual property.

If intellectual property includes an invention in which a patent may be applicable, you should check with your program or with the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs for advice.

Protection of your intellectual property

You have an inherent copyright upon publication of your work (U.S. Copyright Office states: “Copyright protection subsists from the time the work is created in fixed form. The copyright in the work of authorship immediately becomes the property of the author who created the work”).

If you wish, you may include a copyright notice in your document. If so, center the copyright notice above the bottom margin on the second page of your manuscript following the title page (page number “ii”). This is simply a reminder to the reader of your inherent copyright. It is not the same as registered copyright. If you will include this notice, no other text should appear on the page. Obtaining copyright on your own can also be done with the US Copyright Office.

Example:

Copyright 2011, John Doe

OR

© 2011, John Doe
LEGAL USE OF OTHERS’ INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Copyright protection also applies to the intellectual property of others that are referenced in your document.

If use of others’ work exceeds fair use as defined by law, you must obtain permission from the copyright owner. Under the doctrine of “Fair Use,” up to 200 words from one source may be used without permission, if full credit is given to the source in notes and references.

However, use of certain proprietary information (e.g. tables or figures, photographs, charts, etc.) may require written authorization by the copyright holder. You should be mindful about your use of items that an author could potentially profit from each time they are reproduced.

Potential “red flags” include tables or figures, surveys, photographs, charts, digital images of artistic work

Check with your adviser to determine if copyright permission is necessary. There are several online resources that you can utilize to ensure that you are conducting a thoughtful review of how your use of an item or object could hinder the author.

If you have a situation that concerns you please consult the Fair Use Evaluator available from the Copyright Advisory Network website http://librarycopyright.net/resources/fairuse/howitworks.php.

OBTAINING PERMISSION

To obtain permission from a copyright owner, a detailed letter must be sent to the copyright owner that explains the intellectual property you wish to use and the purpose of the use. Keep in mind that copyright issues must be addressed prior to turning in your document. If such permissions are required, the student is responsible for confirming the copyright owner and contacting him/her to obtain the necessary written releases. In the letter, be sure to precisely describe the proposed use of the copyrighted material. If necessary or appropriate, attach a copy of the quotations, diagrams, pictures, and other materials. To avoid a delay or the rewriting of your document you should begin the process of obtaining permission early in your writing. An example of a letter is provided on the next page.

Copyright approval must appear in a footnote and a copy of the permission letter(s) must be scanned into the Appendix of your manuscript. You will be required to acknowledge your awareness of Copyright Law when you submit your Thesis or Dissertation.

For more detailed information on copyright issues consult Copyright Law & Graduate Research: New Media, New Rights, and Your New Dissertation, a handout available online: http://proquest.com/products_umi/dissertations/copyright/ or other online copyright references:

Chapter 2: Requirements for Preparation and Acceptance

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

In matters of style and bibliographical form you should follow the practice of the department and the advice of your major professor. Some departments require a certain style of format, such as APA, MLA, Chicago Manual of Style or Turabian while other programs allow you to choose a style (see Table below). The style selected must be consistently used throughout the paper. Changing styles within a manuscript is prohibited. If there are any discrepancies between the style chosen and University of New Orleans requirements, University requirements have priority and must be followed.

There are two general format styles: Manuscript and Journal

MANUSCRIPT

The Manuscript style is the more familiar style used by students. Traditionally, it includes an introduction, review of literature, methodology, results, discussion or conclusion, and references.

JOURNAL

The Journal style may contain submitted articles or articles to be published. It must maintain a clearly defined theme and an introduction and a conclusion. In addition, the title and abstract must reflect the overall theme of the research.

- In order for articles to be accepted within the manuscript, the student must have contributed the major part of the work submitted. In general, the candidate would be expected to be the sole author or first author of each article. Discussion of multiple authorship and submission approval should begin early in the development of the research project. All authors must be in agreement and have had the opportunity to read the final draft of the article before submission of the thesis or dissertation to the University. If co-authors are listed - beyond the major advisor - a letter from each co-author addressed to the Dean of the Graduate School granting approval for the article to be used must be included in the Appendix of the thesis or dissertation.

- In no case shall the same paper be included in more than one thesis or dissertation. For proof of authorship, a copy of the title page of the article must be submitted at the format check of the thesis or dissertation. Finally, theses and dissertations submitted in journal style must adhere to University of New Orleans format standards.
ACCESS LEVEL

All students submitting a Thesis or Dissertation as part of degree requirements for the University of New Orleans will upload their manuscript electronically to ScholarWorks, a digital repository that is housed on the Earl K. Long Library website (http://scholarworks.uno.edu). ScholarWorks will be the permanent location for the manuscript. This repository is designed to collect official documents and most significantly, to make scholarship as visible as possible to the research community. Therefore it is important that you consider the options available for accessing your manuscript.

On the Thesis & Dissertation Approval Form you may select one of the following options:

1. Unrestricted: Release the entire work immediately for access worldwide.

2. Restricted: Release the entire work for University of New Orleans access only for a period of 1 year. Direct document access is limited to users with a University of New Orleans IP address. Full bibliographic and abstract information will be released. Any requests for copies through interlibrary loan will be honored by providing a free electronic copy, or a print copy for a nominal fee. After a year release the work for access worldwide. Extensions beyond the originally chosen period require approval by the Graduate School of a written request describing the reason for a delayed release.

3. Embargoed: Restrict the entire work for University of New Orleans access for 1 year, 3 years, or 5 years. Bibliographic and abstract information will be released immediately for access worldwide. After the timeframe designated release the work for access worldwide.

The decision about access is yours to make. You should consult your Major Professor and your committee members if you have questions about the best access for your manuscript.

The access level that you select on the Approval Form must also be selected in the data you provide on ScholarWorks when you upload your manuscript.

- If you select “Unrestricted”, you must choose “Thesis” or “Dissertation” for Degree Type in ScholarWorks and do not provide a date for the Embargo Period.
- If you select “Restricted”, you must choose “Thesis-Restricted” or “Dissertation-Restricted” for Degree Type in ScholarWorks and do not provide a date for the Embargo Period.
- If you select “Embargoed”, you must choose “Thesis” or “Dissertation” and provide the correct Embargo Period in ScholarWorks. For example, if you select 3 yrs, the period will be 3 years after the official graduation date (December 15, 2015 if you are graduating in Fall 2012).

Doctoral Students: You will be asked to provide an access level for your dissertation on the UNO Approval Form and also on the UMI Author Agreement Form. These access levels can be different, because these are arrangements with two different entities: UNO and UMI/ProQuest. However, you would most likely want the access to overlap, depending on the implications for your manuscript and any potential publication/patent opportunities in the future. Please keep a copy of both the UNO Approval Form & the UMI Author Agreement Form for your records.
MANUSCRIPT REVIEW

The review of the entire manuscript by the Graduate Reviewer is a critical step in the approval process. The Reviewer will examine the layout of each page to ensure that it meets the standard set by the University of New Orleans.

1. Create an Account on ScholarWorks®UNO – ScholarWorks is the UNO Institutional Repository. You will be uploading your manuscript to this site for review and approval by the Graduate School.
   1. Go to: http://scholarworks.uno.edu
   2. Click on "My Account"
   3. Click on “Sign Up” button under “Create New Account”
   4. Provide your email address, first name, last name and be sure to type in University of New Orleans as your institution; Be sure to provide a password that you will remember since you will need to log in again.
   5. Your account confirmation will be sent to the email address you provided (not necessarily UNO email).

2. Format Check – first review of the manuscript by the Graduate School. The version that you submit for the format check does not necessarily have to have prior approval of your committee. The manuscript will be reviewed for format only. Students will receive format comments within approximately 3-5 business days, depending on the volume of manuscripts received. Manuscripts are reviewed in the order in which they are received. Keep in mind that because the review is conducted by a person, and not a machine, if you send your manuscript after business hours (8am-4:30pm M-F) it will not be logged in until the next business day.

You must upload the manuscript to the UNO Theses & Dissertations Collection at ScholarWorks online: http://scholarworks.uno.edu by the due date.

After you have created an account you will be able to go to “My Account” and log in.

- On the bottom left, under Author Corner, select “Submit your Work”
Scroll all the way down the page!

You will need to scroll down the “Submit your Work” page to access “University of New Orleans Theses and Dissertations”

- You will first see the Submission Instructions. Read and scroll through to the agreement. After you have clicked to verify your agreement you will see the submit form.
You will be prompted to complete information about your manuscript

Please enter the title using Headline Capitalization. It should be entered exactly as it appears in the manuscript of your dissertation or thesis.

- Embargo Period: If you are not selecting Access Level 3 on the Thesis & Dissertation Approval form you should leave this blank. If you are selecting Access Level 3, the Embargo Date is the official graduation date (see Date of Award above) + 1, 3 or 5 years.

- Creative Commons License – Optional. In 2001 Creative Commons was developed in 2001 to create a global standard for sharing research. They have 6 licenses that outline what an author will allow a user to do with their work. A listing of the licenses is available online: http://creativecommons.org/licenses and on the last page of this manual.

- The final step is to upload the file from your computer. This can be a Word or WordPerfect file for the initial format check.

- Within 5-7 business days you should receive an email with the reviewer decision and comments about the format of your manuscript.
When uploading a revision, student must make the appropriate corrections, log back into ScholarWorks, select “Revise Thesis/Dissertation and proceed to upload the new file. NOTE: Do not create multiple accounts in ScholarWorks to upload revisions!

3. Final Version – This is the last version of the manuscript in which committee changes and Graduate School format changes have been integrated.
   - Log back into ScholarWorks
   - Below the University of New Orleans Theses and Dissertations bar under My Account you will see your title. Click on it.

   !ScholarWorks Interface

   - You will then see the button for “Revise thesis/dissertation” on the top left-hand side of the screen.
- This will return you to the page where you enter the information about your manuscript and where you can upload the full text. You can upload your revised file.
- You will need to wait until you get an email informing you that your manuscript has been accepted.
- The final version accepted by the University will be a PDF file. If you have access to Adobe Acrobat, Word 2007 or Word on Mac OSX and higher you can do this conversion before you submit your file. If you do not have access ScholarWorks will do the conversion for you. You will receive an email confirming approval of your manuscript format approximately 1 business day after you submit it. Once approval is granted, no revisions will be permitted.

File Name

To ensure that the file of your final manuscript is cataloged and stored correctly please follow this convention in naming:

Year_Degree(MA/MFA/MS/PHD,etc)_Lastname_Firstname

4. Access - After the manuscript has been approved and received it will be stored in a queue in ScholarWorks. After Commencement it will be released according to the access level designated by the author and the committee on the first page of the Thesis and Dissertation Approval Form. There are three access levels to choose from: Unrestricted, Restricted or Embargo.
Several resources are available from the Graduate School website for students completing Thesis & Dissertation requirements, including several “how-to” documents for using MS Word and Adobe Acrobat.

Page Numbering

- Title Page: the only unnumbered page (counted as page “i” but not numbered)
- All pages except the title page must be numbered.
- All page numbers must appear in the bottom center of the page.

Two different number formats are required:

1. The section from Title Page through Abstract (see Organization & Order above) is considered “front matter” and numbered with small Roman numerals (ii, iii, iv, etc.).

2. Numbering restarts on the first page of Chapter 1 with Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, etc) and continues through the “body” to Vita.

Now select the Insert tab.

SPACING

Manuscripts may be double-spaced, space and a half, or single-spaced with the following exception:

The Title Page, Table of Contents, Table and Figure Captions, Footnotes and entries in the Reference must be single-spaced. Paragraph Indentation must be 0.5” or 0.7”. Widows (the last line of a paragraph typed as the first line of a new page) and orphans (the first line of a paragraph as the last line of a page) are not permissible.

FONT

- A uniform font style should be consistent throughout the manuscript.
- The maximum font size is 16pt and the minimum is 10pt. Script fonts are not acceptable. Italics may be used for subheadings, scientific terms, foreign words, and special emphasis or for citing titles of published works. Some fonts convert to PDF more easily than others. If you have a question, please consult the Graduate School (gradschool@uno.edu).

MARGINS

- All margins should be set to 1” (left, right, top & bottom). Left justification is required.
- Charts, graphs, tables, and illustrations must adhere to the required margin settings as well.

Format Tip: In Word 2007 go to Page Layout > Margins to select the margins.

HEADINGS AND SUBHEADINGS

The headings must be identical in font style, font size, placement, and style of capitalization and used consistently throughout the document.

Headings and sub-headings may be in bold print and have a larger size font. Font size may not exceed 16-point. The font size and heading level correspond in a descending order (e.g., first-level heading has largest font size, etc.).

First-level headings (e.g., Acknowledgements, Table of Contents, List of Tables, List of Figures, Abstract, Introduction, Chapters, Bibliography, Appendix, Vita) must begin on a new page.

Double-spacing twice after a first-level heading, before footnotes, and before and after tables is permitted. Do not add extra space before or after subheadings.

Running headers or footers are not permitted.

Follow the heading levels of your program’s style manual (APA, MLA, Chicago, etc).
Title Page (required)

- The Title of the manuscript must be in upper and lowercase letters, begin at the 1” top margin and not be in bold. It should appear identical to the title on the Thesis and Dissertation Approval form.
- Authors of scientific and engineering theses or dissertations must use words in place of formulas, symbols, superscripts, subscripts, Greek letters, etc., in the title. For example, “Fission-Fragment Synthesis of K3Mn(CN)6” is written “Fission-Fragment Synthesis of Potassium Manganicyanide.”
- The degree listed must correspond to an official degree awarded by UNO as listed in the University Catalog. A concentration may be listed on the line directly below.

- The layout of the Title Page must follow the example exactly.
- Under your name you are only listing degrees earned prior to this one.
Table of Contents (Required)

The Table of Contents should list and identify all items that follow the Table in the manuscript, including appendices.

A Table of Contents is optional only for candidates in Music, Playwriting or Screenwriting.

Example:

FORMAT TIP

In Microsoft Word:
1. Begin with a new page or remove previous formatting.
2. Set top, right and left margins.
3. At the top margin, center “Table of Contents”.
4. Left justify the cursor. Type the title of your first page (FOREWORD, LIST OF TABLES, etc.)
5. With the cursor at the end of the word, set a tab stop. Choose Home > Paragraph then Tabs from the menu. In the Tab Stop Position window, type in 6. In the Default Tab Stops window, type in 0. Set the Alignment to Right. Choose Option 2 under Leader. Click OK.
6. With the cursor at the end of the word, press the Tab key. With the cursor now at the right margin, type in your page number and hit return. Remember to use small Roman Numerals for Front Matter.
7. For each subsequent heading, simply type in the title at the left cursor, tab over to the right and type in the corresponding page number.
8. If you have subheadings to indent from the left, you will need to space over to the correct point. Be sure that all subheadings are aligned to the same point.
List of Figures, Tables or Illustrations

If a figure, table or illustration is included in your manuscript a List should be provided. Lists should be formatted exactly like the Table of Contents (with page numbers aligned to the right margin).

Nomenclature and Abbreviations

It may be necessary to provide a list of nomenclature or abbreviations utilized in your manuscript. It should follow the Table of Contents and precede the Abstract.

Abstract (required)

The maximum amount of words for an abstract is:

- Thesis—150
- Dissertation—350

Authors of scientific and engineering theses or dissertations must use words in place of formulas, symbols, superscripts, subscripts, Greek letters, etc.

The Abstract is the last page in the manuscript to be paginated with a small roman numeral.

Keywords (words or short phrases for indexing and database access) are required to be listed at the bottom of the Abstract page

Example:

Abstract

Following the logic of Fernando Pessoa’s semiheteronym, Bernardo Soares, the artist renders in a visual image the sensations of his emotional state. “I compose landscapes out of what I feel”, he declares, while simultaneously conveying the reader into his own physical landscape of the streets of Lisbon. The state of the self is reflected in the spaces that are inhabited, sought, created and reflected by the various personae represented in works by Rousseau, Pessoa and Lispector.

Preface, Prologue or Introduction

This should be the first page of the manuscript to be paginated with Arabic numeral “1”.

Vita (required)

Your vita, which is always the last page of the manuscript (follows appendices), is a brief biographical sketch typed in paragraph format and written in the third person. It should not be confused in content or format with your Curriculum Vitae or résumé.

Example:

VITA

The author was born in Shreveport, Louisiana. She obtained her Bachelor’s degree in chemistry from Louisiana State University in 2005. She joined the University of New Orleans chemistry graduate program to pursue a PhD in analytical chemistry, and became a member of Professor Zeev Rosenzweig’s and Professor Matthew Tarr’s research groups in 2005 and 2007, respectively.

- If footnotes are used, they can be placed either at the bottom of each page or grouped at the end of each chapter as end notes.
- If put at the end of the chapter the subheading “End Notes” should provide the title for the section. This does not begin a new page. Single-space the end notes with a double-space between entries. Inclusion of End Notes does not preclude a Bibliography. Footnotes may be numbered consecutively throughout the manuscript or they may begin with 1 within each chapter.

Tables and Figures

Do not group tables, figures and illustrations at the end of the chapter or the document.
• The format chosen for table and figure titles must be used consistently throughout the document.
• Tables and figures must conform to the 1" margins.
• Captions may be single-spaced and smaller in size, but no smaller than 10 pt.
• If a table is longer than a single page, a notation that states either “(table continued)”, “(table XX continued)”, “(table cont.)”, or “(table XX cont.)” is required. The complete caption appears only on the first page at the top of the table.

Tables and figures not critical to the manuscript may be placed in an appendix. These tables and figures may be reduced to fit on one page as long as they are legible.

LANDSCAPED PAGES
Landscaped pages should be formatted for screen viewing and remain landscaped in the PDF file. The pagination should also be oriented for the screen and not for print.

ILLUSTRATIONS
It is possible within an Electronic Thesis or Dissertation to include original research elements. Students are encouraged to take advantage of this aspect of electronic documentation.

Digital photographs, screen shots, video images, and short audio clips are just a few of the types of supplementary material that can be included in an electronic manuscript.

If such items are included a separate List of Illustrations should follow the Table of Contents.

If included, these items must be in one of the following formats:

| Images | GIF (.gif)
|        | JPEG (.jpeg)
|        | PDF (.pdf) use Type 1 PostScript fonts
|        | TIFF (.tif)

CHAPTER 4: SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR FILM STUDENTS

Students completing an MFA in Film and Theatre Arts with a concentration in Film Production must:

A. Submit copies of your thesis film on 3 DVDs. One DVD should be turned in to Department of Film & Theatre and 2 to the Graduate School (ADA 1004A) by the last day of classes in the graduation term (e.g. May 1 for Spring 2015). Each DVD must be labeled with the following information - Author, Title, Date, Running time - and enclosed in a clear, unlabeled jewel case.

After Commencement, the Graduate School will deliver the DVDs to the Earl K. Long Library for storage in Special Collections. DVDs housed in Special Collections will not be circulated outside of the Library but will be accessible to researchers for viewing.

B. Include a Film Reference Page in the Appendix.

Centered at the 1" top margin include the following statement: “The DVD copy of the thesis film [insert film title here] is located in the Earl K. Long Library."

This page should be numbered sequentially.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR DOCTORAL STUDENTS

☐ Notify the Graduate School whether or not attending commencement
☐ Submit the Survey of Earned Doctorates online
☐ Submit the UMI Author Agreement form to the Graduate School

• The Survey of Earned Doctorates is a continuing effort by the National Science Foundation to gather data on recent doctorates. The Survey can be completed online from a link on the Graduate School Forms website (http://grad.uno.edu, follow the link for Forms).

• UMI Author Agreement Form* is disseminated by UMI/PQIL. Your signature gives UMI/PQIL permission to do the following with your dissertation:

1. Microfilm and archive
2. Assign a unique ISBN, create a bibliographic record for distribution to resources such as OCLC, Silver Platter, STN and Dialog.

Although the Graduate School collects the fees and agreement forms for distribution, UMI is an agency independent of the University of New Orleans. Any agreement between students and UMI for services such as copyright registration, or discounted copies of your dissertation, in addition to the decision on options of access are also independent of UNO. Students are encouraged to make copies of the Author Agreement form for their records before turning them in to the Graduate School office.
