

LSUHSC – Medical Laboratory Science Program (Clinical Lab/Med Tech)

Listed below are the prerequisite courses for admission to the Bachelor of Science in Medical Laboratory Science Program at the LSU Health Sciences Center School of Allied Health Professions in New Orleans. Potential applicants should visit the LSUHSC Medical Laboratory Science Program admissions webpage to ensure up to date information on their admission requirements including policies relating to online courses, timeframe of completed courses, and volunteer/professional experience.

Program requirements are determined by LSUHSC. Admission to the program is on a competitive basis. Meeting the minimum requirements does not guarantee program admission.

Applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of a 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) for all prerequisite courses. A grade of D or F in any prerequisite course is not acceptable and the course must be repeated until at least a C is achieved. Grades in repeated courses are not deleted in the determination of GPA. Applicants are assessed by their science/math GPA, interview, knowledge of the profession, writing skills, and recommendations.

Applicants are advised to visit a clinical laboratory prior to their interview.

Students should refer to the courses of instruction in the University Catalog for the most up-to-date information on UNO courses and pre-requisites.
