See, Test and Treat

Notice seeking applications that provides institutions across the United States with funding to provide community access to free breast and cervical cancer screenings. See, Test & Treat is a one-day, pathologist-led screening and health education program that brings the power of diagnostic medicine to medically underserved populations with the goals of addressing health disparities by reducing barriers to care for medically underserved people through healthcare system partnerships; empowering prevention by delivering dignified screenings with same-day or prompt results and health education; and connecting patients and their families to a medical home and resources within their own communities.

Applications are due September 3, 2025. Grants of up to $20,000 for eligible program expenses for one year are available.

Sigma Emergency Nurses Association Foundation Grant

Notice seeking applications that encourages nursing research with the potential to advance the specialized practice of emergency nursing. All relevant research topics will be considered.

Applications are due August 8, 2025. Grants of $6,000 will be awarded.

LINKS: Solicitation; Emergency Nurses Association

Simons Foundation Autism Research Initiative (SFARI) Data Analysis Grants

Notice seeking proposals for projects to increase use of large, publicly available data resources by supporting investigators to allocate time and personnel toward working in and publishing from these previously collected data. Applications should leverage existing publicly accessible datasets to ask new questions and extract new knowledge. Priority will be given to applications that use SFARI-supported resources, although all applications will be considered as long as data are publicly accessible at the time of application. Proposals should address questions relevant to the SFARI mission: to advance the basic science of autism and related neurodevelopmental disorders.

Proposals due September 4, 2025. Total award amounts are up to $300,000, which includes up to 20% indirect costs.

Spotlight Grant: Patient-Centered Outcomes Research

Notice seeking applications for research projects in topic areas of special interest that advance overall research priorities for eczema. In 2025, specific areas of research interest include: patient-centered outcomes research. Patient-centered outcomes focuses on the experiences, needs, and preferences of patients living with the condition, and helps identify which treatments work best for diverse patient populations in real-world settings, improves shared decision-making and drives innovation.

Applications are due August 15, 2025. Maximum award amount is $60,000. No indirect costs are allowed.

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, and MATHEMATICS

Aviation and Missile R&D BAA

Notice seeking research concept papers and proposals to fulfill requirements for scientific study and experimentation directed toward advancing state-of-the-art technologies and/or increasing knowledge and understanding as a means of eliminating current technology barriers. There are multiple areas of interest ranging from Topological Optimization for Additively Manufactured (AM) Corrosion Resistant Gearbox Housings to Hybrid VTOL to Enable Operational Capability.

Concept papers are due by October 1, 2025. Multiple awards are anticipated each year. The government anticipates that it will begin selection of concept papers during the first quarter of each fiscal year.

Plasma Arc Melting System

Notice seeking proposals for a pilot-scale plasma arc melting system to support research on refractory metal alloys. The system must be adaptable for various feedstock types and melting conditions, with precise control over heat input, melt rate, and gas environment. Key specifications include: Melter Characteristics: Plasma Torch System: Programmable motion control with multiple plasma torches and controlled gas delivery. Cooling System: Closed-loop water cooling for heat-sensitive components, with integrated manifold and valves.

Proposals are due August 6, 2025. Questions are due August 1, 2025.
